About the Book

As the Bunco Biddies decorate for a wedding shower, Ethel falls from a ladder, is rushed to the ER, and from beyond the curtained divider, overhears a hushed conversation about a crime.

When the Bunco Biddies get the antsy groom involved in their sleuthing, his chances of making it to the church dwindle, and that's when the way to the altar gets dicey.

TITLE: Til Dice Do Us Part
Discussion:

Question 1: Does anyone believe Ethel really overheard a crime plot?

Answer 1: Even Janie questions if the meds they gave her might have affected her judgement

Question 2: Who are the Bunco Biddies?

Answer 2: They are quirky and active seniors who live in a 55 plus community and play Bunco on Thursdays, in between helping the local police solve crimes.

Question 3: Can you read this book without having read the other three?

Answer 3: YEs, each mystery stands alone and here are plenty clues to help the reader catch up without revealing the plots of the other three.

Question 4: How helpful is Janie's son-in-law, Chief Detective Blake Johnson?

Answer 4: Janie often puts him between a rock and a hard place. She has valid insights but her unorthodox ways challenges his job.

Question 5: Who are Janie's trusted friends?

Answer 5: Ethel, Betsy Ann and Mildred, and they become bit by the sleuth bug, too.

Question 6: Why did you include romance in these cozies?

Answer 6: Perhaps as a widow , part of me wants to believe true love can happen at any age.

Question 7: What gave you the idea to set these in a retirement community?

Answer 7: Most cozies are set in small towns where the amateur sleuth has inside knowledge. I thought it might be fun to show active and vital seniors as sleuths.

Question 8: Is there humor?

Answer 8: Absolutely. These women are fun, and love life...and murder solving.

Question 9: Why is Janie a sleuth?

Answer 9 Her late hubby was a detective and he often bounced his cases off her brain because she sees things at different angles.

Question 10: Are the characters patterned after anyone?

Answer 10: My mother had life-long friends, and in their seventies and eighties they still loved life and were a hoot to be around. All have passed on now, including mom. I guess they were my muse.
